

Aubrey Ellen Shomo <aubreyshomo@gmail.com>

Dan: I may lose interest in you if you can get me the Treatment Team.

Danny <frog92126@aol.com>
To: aubreyshomo@gmail.com

Mon, Sep 22, 2014 at 9:31 AM

Aubrey,

I have no allegiance (nor do I want any) with the Boulder Mental Health Center. FACT Team used the wraparound principles of coordinating department of social services (which I believe referred your case to FACT), Mental Health (FACT), Schools, and the judicial system. Their focus was to minimize out of home placements (hospitalizations, incarcerations, etc). The executive director was Barbara Ryan. Your issue seems to be with a philosophical idea (google Wraparound Services) than unlawful intent.

This too shall be my last email.

I wish you well,

Danny

-----Original Message-----

From: Aubrey Ellen Shomo <aubreyshomo@gmail.com>

To: Danny <frog92126@aol.com>

Sent: Thu, Sep 18, 2014 6:18 pm

Subject: Dan: I may lose interest in you if you can get me the Treatment Team.

Dan:

This will be my last email, unless you reply, but I've given the matter some thought.

I can prove what you did. Hands down. Cold.

However, as I told you, my main interest was in seeing what was an unlawfully orchestrated plea overturned.

If you can get me the Mental Health Center, I may not be very interested in you.

You said you were acting in accord with policy. Which policy?

Is there some evidence I can use to corroborate that all of your actions were taken with the knowledge and consent of the whole team?

Were they taken on the team's instruction, or at your initiation?

How often did the Treatment Team engage in this kind of behavior?

I'll even come to Ft. Collins, if you like, to take care of that.

If you can get me the FACT Team, that'll give me a better target than you.

If you cover for the Mental Health Center, I consider you to stand with them.

Aubrey Ellen Shomo